

A Better Way to Manage Revenue

Cost cutting is always a difficult subject to discuss with constituents, except when lowering costs means better services and no loss of staff. Then you're brilliant. Avenu's revenue administration solution gives you an easier way to process all your tax and fee payments. We unburden local governments from the day-to-day ownership of responding to customer inquiries, tracking underpayments, issuing licenses and compiling reports, all of which results in tangible progress on cost containment.

The Integrity of the Process

As the revenue administration representative for local governments, Avenu contacts business taxpayers to help them register, file tax returns and remit payments. Our secure systems provide convenient online transactions and taxpayer support, while the fast turnaround gets the funds into your account in as little as 24 hours.

Jurisdictions appreciate the consistent and positive results of our SSAE 18 / SOC 1 audits, showing that we handle the process and the funds with the highest standards. Moreover, our reporting feature gives city and county leadership a regular accounting for everyday financial management, audit planning and accurate forecasting.

“Avenu processes more than $1 billion a year in taxes and fees for local governments.”

The Lower Cost of Revenue Management

Buying and maintaining tax administration software, records retention, disaster recovery and other critical requirements create a large expense for jurisdictions, not to mention the cost of paper, printing, and postage for correspondence and licenses. Because Avenu's solution is already in use by many governments, cities and counties incur little-to-no startup costs and transaction fees are nominal. Government leaders get uninterrupted and locally administered programs, focused compliance, professional customer service and predictably lower costs.

A Partner to Local Government

Customers put their trust in Avenu due to our experience in many tax types, local ordinances, and because our findings in one area often lead to other revenue opportunities. Our high customer satisfaction and renewal rates are directly linked to this knowledgebase, our responsiveness to queries and issues, and the professionalism of our staff when interacting with taxpayers.
